

Raj Uphaar is a multifaceted platform to employ tribal women in the remote rural areas of South Gujarat, India. This initiative empowers them in their quest towards financial independence and self-sustenance. With over 200 female employees, Raj Uphaar has now become a place of home and hope. The women produce and manufacture over 200 different fragrances, savouries, confectioneries and home accessories. Your purchase supports their holistic development through self-access to healthcare services, and educational programmes.

The women put their heart and soul into each product. Each creation tells a story, and every time you create a Raj Uphaar product, you empower a woman who will move one step closer to self-reliance.
